

Press Release

23 February 2006

Southampton City Council - Free competition

Find the Football in the New Business Zone!

Southampton City Council is sponsoring the largest business to business networking event of its kind in the region Business South 2006 at St Mary's stadium on 1 & 2 March.

At this event they are running a competition giving exhibition visitors the chance to win free business services. Prizes are worth a lot in terms of a company's business budget and include marketing, PR, design and website consultancy; and business counselling or mediation support.

To find out how to enter visit the City Council stand number 72 in the Business Advice Zone where competition forms can be collected. Forms will also be distributed in the exhibition network cafes, which are also sponsored by the city council.

It's easy to enter the competition, just look out for the numbers displayed on the footballs in the New Business Zone at Business South 2006.

OUTBOX

Fantastic prizes worth a huge amount of anyone's business budget have been donated by:

Open Air Design (stand 2) – Win a free half day's consulting on marketing/design topics of your choice

Kingli Services (Stand 11) – Win 2 hours free business support, counselling or mediation

Peachstone Ltd (Stand 3) – Win a free half day review of your business's existing business or marketing strategy

Substance PR (Stand 5) – Win a free half day's PR and communications consultancy

UX Consultancy/The eStudios (Stands 9 & 10) – Win the 'Ultimate

Website Check'. Help your business to become a competitive powerhouse by assessing the key factors for success on the web